

BAUSCHER at Intergastra and Internorga 2016

Airflow*, Purity and Come4table – Innovative system porcelain and new variations for a stylishly set table

Weiden, Germany, February 2016. Porcelain specialist BAUSCHER is set to impress again at this year's Intergastra trade show in Stuttgart (20 to 24 February, Hall 4, Stand B 66) and at Internorga in Hamburg (11 to 16 March, Hall B7 Stand 410, Hospital range: Hall A4, Stand 104) with innovative system porcelain and elegant table-top ideas. Discover Airflow, a new solution for meal distribution, as well as the textured surfaces of the Purity collection and the decorative vintage look of Come4table.

Airflow*: Innovative system porcelain for meal distribution

With Airflow the expert in professional porcelain for the hospital and care sector proves its innovative capacity once more, enabling meal distribution that is even more effective and economical:

Combining functional solutions with an aesthetic look is the goal of every BAUSCHER innovation. The new Airflow collection is no different, impressing with both functionality and design. The curved recesses in the stacking edges fulfil a functional purpose. When stacked narrow air vents are created that facilitate easier air exchange for faster drying of items after rinsing. The improved air exchange also enables shorter cooling-off and heating times. The distinctive form of the curve allows an easier grip and thus easier handling when cleaning and portioning. The form-fitting, sturdy plastic lids provide hygienic protection. Airflow items can be added to any tray in a functional and appealing way – be it in active or passive systems. The angular and round items provide not only for optical variation, but also space-saving stackability. They can be combined and stacked with existing BAUSCHER items, thus giving a range of different application options. As with all collections from the ISO-certified company, Airflow also offers exceptional durability and quality Made in Germany.

With Come4table, BAUSCHER offers caterers, hoteliers, and restaurateurs around the world an attractive collection of porcelain that harmoniously blend into any ambience, forming the perfect stage for the presented food. For trendy regional cuisine or modern rustic gourmet restaurants, new pattern designs create new food presentation possibilities.

- A subtle touch: The Structure relief pattern

The Structure relief pattern, available in "Sand" and "Stone" colors, lends the porcelain an air of refinement: the unconventionally adorned hollowware in combination with the matching decor of the plates yields a fresh new look – a delicate relief decoration for caterers, hoteliers, and restaurateurs who value a classic, understated design.

- Cottage*, Cottage Line, and Sweet Flower: Authentic flair of gastronomy

The desire for simplicity and quality paired with a yearning for traditional, exceptional cuisine has now reached fine dining. This trend is also making its mark on food presentation. Cottage represents a vintage spirit that unites the classic look of porcelain with rural motifs to create a new aesthetic interpretation devoid of kitsch. Cottage is supplemented with the Sweet Flower and Cottage Line patterns. The articles can easily be mixed and matched in any combination. This vintage pattern concept yields wildly new arrangements – flowers with checkered patterns, checkered patterns intertwined with red borders, or all three variations together – while at the same time evoking feelings of nostalgia.

- Gourmet plates with a bucolic accent

With the Timber pattern for gourmet plates in the Come4table collection, BAUSCHER gives caterers, hoteliers, and restaurateurs the tools they need to integrate a simple and natural design into their tabletop solutions. The name says it all: "Timber" features a rustic wood look with an elegant gray-green tone.

- Nordic Flower*: Pure elegance and traditional patterns re-interpreted Sprawling landscapes, rich colors, and clear light – the cool beauty of the North is reflected in the characteristic Scandinavian design. With the Nordic Flower pattern, BAUSCHER has succeeded in reinterpreting these time-honored themes. The blue of the Nordic Flower Blue has a soothing balancing effect on the flowers, their playfulness more muted by their simple geometric shapes. Richly contrasting combinations can stem from this interplay of diverse patterns.

Purity*: Extended assortment and new patterns

The international luxury hotel and restaurant sector are captivated by the Purity collection, nominated for the German Design Award 2016. With Purity, which combines design and functionality, the porcelain specialist BAUSCHER has created a modern classic that is setting global standards for table settings at first-class establishments.

BAUSCHER has added rimless coup plates to the filigree Noble China collection. The new articles are available in the exquisite Finest Loom pattern as well as other elegant patterns: Pearls, available in "Dark" and "Light" variations, utilizes the full coup surface for a relief reminiscent of fine leather. With its clear, matte, sandblasted appearance, Silence embodies gracious reticence: combined with the classic design of Purity, it provides an understated look, leaving the meal presentation room to make its impact. Finest Loom, Pearls, and Silence play with the senses, convincing with both visual and textural elements. The porcelain patterns are impressive not just to the eye but also to the touch.

Like all BAUSCHER products, the innovations presented at Ambiente 2016 meet the company's self-imposed sustainability goals. Inclusion in the Ethical Style Guide of Ambiente underscores the sustainability of all activities of the ISO 14001- and ISO 50001-certified porcelain specialist.
